

Natural Bike Lube – protect your bike chain and the environment

Ticks every box: effective, easy to apply, eco-friendly

Simply lubricate the chain, then cycle off into the distance – many cyclists wish bicycle maintenance was that simple. Now it really is: with HOLMENKOL's Natural Bike Lube, making chain maintenance easier than ever. Ready to apply straight from the bottle, Natural Bike Lube offers top-of-the-range lubrication without doing harm to the planet – all ingredients are eco-friendly.

Natural Bike Lube adheres excellently to bike chains, providing unsurpassed lubrication. Thanks to its excellent penetration qualities, Natural Bike Lube even reaches hard-to-access areas between moving parts, protecting every link of the chain against corrosion and wear. As well as travelling more smoothly for longer, bike chains last longer too – much to the delight of cyclists everywhere. What's more, cyclists don't need to worry about the environment either: Natural Bike Lube is fully biodegradable.

Natural Bike Lube – for a variety of applications

Using Natural Bike Lube couldn't be more straightforward. If the bike chain is dirty, first degrease and clean it with HOLMENKOL SportClean. Then apply the right amount of Natural Bike Lube to different points on the chain using the handy dropper bottle. This product is so effective, you must of course make sure nothing accidentally spills onto the brakes. Within seconds you're back in the saddle!

Aside from lubricating bike chains, Natural Bike Lube can be used on a whole host of other parts: use it to protect cogs, derailleurs, hubs and all kinds of moving metal parts from wear and corrosion – not just on bicycles.

Natural Bike Lube is an ideal, easy-to-use solution for all kinds of lubrication. Natural Bike Lube is available in stores now as a handy 50 ml dropper bottle.
