Double the power against unpleasant odours

Concentrated hygiene spray with hi-tech odour absorber

Eurobike 2007. HOLMENKOL is introducing its "SportHygienic" spray to the international specialist cycle trade with perfect timing for the trade fair. This handy spray with an improved recipe provides a fresh and hygienic feel that lasts even longer.

During strenuous cycles rides when the cyclist is prone to perspiring, in high temperatures and particularly in a damp environment, effective shoe hygiene is essential. Not only does it prevent unpleasant odours, but also skin disease.

The built-in odour absorber neutralizes and eliminates active odours and leaves behind a lemon fresh aroma.

Left: "Good" and "bad" odours are completely different in chemical terms. The SportHygienic odour absorber is able to differentiate between these without a problem.

Right: Unpleasant odours and bacteria can be eliminated in this manner, leaving behind a lemon fresh aroma.

The extremely fine spray mist ensures reliable effectiveness in the entire inner shoe and also ensures that a little goes an extremely long way.

The +100% concentrated recipe halves drying time on the fabric, as "SportHygienic" achieves its full effect with the very first spray application. The hygiene spray is also suitable, amongst other things, for cycle helmets, bags and rucksacks.

The "SportHygienic" spray is available in the handy 125ml container for 9.95 EUR from all good cycle stores.

HOLMENKOL will be presenting its products at Stand 203 in Hall A1 at EUROBIKE 2007.
